Ingredients

Sponge

- 310 g self-raising flour
- 120g soft brown sugar (I used a mix of light and dark)
- 180 ml dairy free milk
- 1 tsp apple cider vinegar
- 120 ml oil (vegetable or neutral tasting oil)
- 180 g dairy free yoghurt
- 3 medium bananas, ripe and mashed
- 60g cookie butter spread (e.g. Biscoff), melted
- 150g dark chocolate chunks

Sauce

- 200g light brown sugar
- 2 tbsp cornflour
- 400ml boiling water
- 2 tbsp cookie butter spread

Instructions

1. Preheat the oven to 170 C Fan.
2. Lightly grease a 9 inch square baking dish.
3. In a large bowl combine the wet ingredients and then gently fold in the dry.
4. Gently mix until JUST combined - there may be some small lumps but that is fine! Overmixing may cause the cake to be dense and not rise.
5. Fold through the chocolate chunks.
6. Pour the batter into the tin.
7. Mix together the sugar and cornflour and then sprinkle over the sponge. Dissolve the cookie butter spread in the boiling water and then pour the water over the back of a spoon onto the sponge (this stops the sponge from baking).
8. Bake for 35 - 45 minutes, or until the top is set and the sponge is just baked.
9. Leave to cool slightly for 10 minutes then serve with ice cream!
